steamboats on the Ohio. It was the birthplace of almost 500 river boats— the Eclipse, the A. L. Shotwell, and the Robert E. Lee, most famous of them all. It was the home of the people who came to build the boats and to command the boats.

The river has played a leading role in the development of our town since the early 1800's. Our town more than once has seen the river on a rampage . . flooding its banks . . ruining farm land leaving people homeless. However, when kept under control, it fertilized the rich bottom lands so the pioneers could grow corn and other food ... it encouraged manufacturing by supplying unlimited water power .. its steamboats made possible the most economical means of transportation.

Even today our town is dependent upon the river for its industry and shipping. As in the past, the Ohio is an integral part of New Albany.

our town is a historic town

Our town was founded by the three Scribner brothers who left Albary, New York to sail down the Ohio River to find new and fertile lands. In the spring of 1813, they set foot on the soil they later named New Albary.

Our town grew rapidly and within a few years had acquired a reputation as a boat-building center. Timber was plentiful and near at hand . . . the shore sloped to a deep all-season channel. Little wonder the best steamboat builders crowded into New Albany.

During this era of river traffic, our town was the scene of brilliant social affairs... steamboat captains and their families crowded the local tavems... southerners vacationed here. New

Our town was brought to a standstill following the area of prosperity . . . steamboating declined rapidly . . . the Civil War depleted the wealth of the town, New Albany met this decline by turning to the manufacturing of glass . . . and then to the iron rolling mills.

When both of these eventually failed, our town saw the possibilities of a new industry — plywood manufacturing. The river and railroads would furnish transportation . . . near-by forests would provide hardwoods . . . there was an abundant supply of labor. Thus it was that New Albany gave rise to the first plywood factory, and today is one of the largest producers of plywood in this country.

Our school dates back to 1853 when the first high school was established in New Albary..., the second oldest high school in the state. Since that time our high school has had various locations. The present building was contructed in 1927... the annex was first used for high school classes in 1941... the south wing of the main building was added in 1943... and in 1949 the vocational agriculture building was ready for use.

Since the first high school was started in New Albary almost a hundred years ago, it has paced the city's industrial development. It owes much to its civic leaders who through these years have helped to make our school one of the finest and one of the most modern high schools anywhere.

We worked together . . . seriously at times . . . but always ready for fun . . . using our creative talents for further progress . . . always trying to give our best . . . and always hoping for success.

Long hours poring over radio scripts . . . endless play rehearsals . . . working for harmony in our songs . . . as well as harmony throughout our school day.

The bookstore . . . a meeting place between classes . . . small talk and news extenged between friends. The dean's office . . . unexcused absences . . . tardy slips . . . but always a haven where problems can be solved.

Lunch periods that always go too quickly . . . running to the annex on a rainy day . . . initiations, sometimes ridiculous . . . but adding another bit of variety to the halls of NAHS . . . all playing an integral part in our school life.

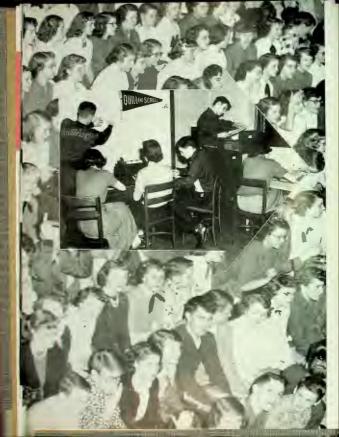

There was always something to look forward to . . . a banquet, play, or prom . . . a momentary thrill when the queen is crowned . . . the sad yet wondrous feeling of a senior as he goes to his last prom.

Dancing, drinking cokes, and sometimes loafing ... cheering from the stands at the faculty-senior game ... pausing at a locker between classes ... little things that will always be treasured in our memories of NAHS

Jane Brown and Ceorge Kraft, editor and business manager of the annual, look over the cover designed for the 1951 Senior Blotter.

The 1951 Senior Blotter was realized to be a record of the year 1950-51 at New Albary High School. The primary objective of the editor, her staff, and the advisers was to retell the story of our school year. The staff was headed by Jane Brown, editor; George Kraft, business manager; Harriet Scribner, circulation manager; and Richard Riely, advertising manager.

From July 9 to 23, several members of the staff attended the High School Journalism Institute at Indiana University. Most of these students won honors in their respective fields of sports, features, news writing, and advertising. NAHS was also represented at the Indiana High School Pres Association meeting at Franklin College and the National Scholastic Press Association conference at Chicaso.

Robert B. Johnson, former director of publications at NABA, worked with the staff during Interior at the Journalism Institute at Indiana University. In September, after the resignation of Mr. Johnson from the high school faculty, Floyd A. Creach assumed the position of journalism teacher and yearbook adviser. When Mr. Creach was recalled to the United States Air Force in December, Miss Jessie Ruth Böbb, assistant adviser, worked with the staff in publishing the 1951 Senior worked with the staff in publishing the 1951 Senior

The staff of the Blotter, NAHS newspaper, is composed of the members of the journalism classes. The main objectives of the staff are to keep the students informed of the activities and organizations in school and to interpret the school to the community. The work provides training in the journalistic field and offers an opportunity for creative writing.

Fourteen issues of the Blotter were published during the school year. The paper is printed in the high school print shop under the supervision of Albert Gehlbach, printing instructor.

The climax of the first semester Blotter campaign was a variety show given for all subscribers. The annual senior-faculty basketball game terminated the second semester campaign.

The faculty adviser for the first semester was Floyd A. Creech. Mr. Creech was called into the United States Air Force in December, and Mrs. Roy Scott acted as faculty adviser for the remainder of the semester. The second semester staff was under the direction of Mrs. Max Wiesman.

Four staff members were enrolled at the Indiana High School Journalism Institute at Indiana University last summer. Members of the staff also attended the Indiana High School Press Association meeting at Franklin College and the National Scholastic Press Association conference at Chicago.

journalists in the making

The Reporters Club was organized in the fall of 1948 in order to give freshmen, sophomores, and juniors an opportunity to write for the high school newspaper.

The purposes of the club are to develop the creative writing ability of those students interested in collecting material and preparing it for publication in the Blotter, and to give members of the club an insight into the journalistic profession.

During club meetings, the members discussed and studied the various types and styles of stories found in the high school newspaper.

The main project of the club was the selling of official programs during the home football and basketball games. This is a very important and worth-while duty, which was aptly performed by the members. Proceeds from program sales are used to send NAHS Journalists to state and national journalism conferences. The program salesmen were Doris Scharrer, Joyce Sweet, Lavetta Wimp, Nancy Stillman, Mary Morris, and Jane Murray.

The first semester officers of the club were Joyce Sweet, president; Irene Hobach, vice president; Betty Hock, secretary; and Jeanette Little, treasurer.

Officers serving for the second semester were Don Lee Miller, president; Paul Hottell, vice president; Ellis Flynn, secretary; and Patricia Christiansen, treasurer. Floyd A. Creech sponsored the club the first semester, and Mrs. Max Wiesman served as sponsor for the second semester.

of, for, and by the students

The government of the students, by the students, and for the students at New Albany High School is known as the Student Council and is now in its seventh year. This group, consisting of forty-five members, enables a student to express his ideas concerning school activities and functions.

A representative from each home room plus four officers elected by the student body comprise this council. The officers for the year 1950-51 were Paul Poff, president; Joyce Flynn, secretary; and Patrick Parker, treasurer. Mrs. Jessie Beard Long and C. Gordon Raney are the sponsors of the group.

The Student Council has accomplished much during the school year. With the cooperation of the Parent-Teacher Association, the council sent four seniors to New York to attend the General Assembly of the United Nations. The seniors chosen for this trip were Mary Ann Burke, Richard Riely, Juanita Ther, and Morton Wolfe. They were accompanied by Miss Leota Rusk, a member of the social studies department.

The organization also sponsored a Parent-Teacher Association program. It was responsible for the decoration of the school during the Christmas season. Members presented a program for the Southeastern Center of Indiana University at Jeffersonville. Square dances given in the gymnastum were sponsored by the Student Council.

This national organization sent four representatives to the district meeting in Bedford last October. In April, four representatives attended the state meeting in Lafayette. One of the foremost gatherings is the national convention to be held in Boston in June and which the newly elected president for 1951-52 will attend.

The Wrangler-Speaker Cup Contest, held in April, is one of the main events of the year.

During the school year, Speakers and the music department often combine to furnish programs for the holidays. They gave choral readings on Thanksgiving, and produced "The Christmas Pearl," a play presented for the Christmas assembly.

All Speaker activities were not confined to the school, however. Speakers and their arch enemies, Wranglers, combined to give a dance for the basketball team after tournament time. They also gave a tea for their alumnae, and at Christmas they had a party for underprivileged children.

Officers for the first semester were Vada Kenney, president; Kathryn McFrye, vice president; Juanita Ther, secretary; and Joyce Lamke, treasurer.

statesmen of the future

The Wrangler Club was organized in 1910 by H. B. McLinn, former superintendent of schools, and has been an outstanding boys' club of NAHS since its formation. Marvin Oakes has sponsored Wranglers since 1942, except during the three years he was in the service.

Club membership is limited to twenty-five boys chosen from the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. The prospective member must have an A or B average in English and social science.

The purpose of the club is to promote public speaking, discussions, and debates, and to participate in any worth-while function of the school or community.

The major activity of the year was the presentation of the melodrama, "The City Slicker and Our Nell," which was a request performance. The cast included Lewis Pry, Robert Flynn, Patrick Flynn, Donald Moser, Richard Riely, Don Lee Miller, Morton Wolfe, George Kraft, and David Caylor.

The Wrangler Cup Contest, which is an oratorical contest open to any boy or girl in NAHS, is sponsored by this club. Members also partici-

Another annual project of the club is the promotion of pep sessions. The social highlight of the Wranglers' activities for this year was the annual spring dance which was held at the New Albany Country Club.

literature, prose and poetry

The purpose of the Readers Club is to increase students' interest in the finer points of literature and to encourage a finer understanding of better reading material.

The club was organized in 1943 by Mrs. Catherine Lucas. The sponsorship was taken over by Miss Olleta Tyler in 1948, who continued sponsoring the club during 1949. Miss Crace Stanton is the present club sponsor.

During club meetings, the members discussed the books they had read, and gave detailed book reports. The club members also read plays and dramatized them during meetings. Debates on the literary merits of various books were also given.

Since many students do not have the time or opportunity to really enjoy a good book, the club period is sometimes devoted entirely to pleasure reading. Many members thus acquire a broader range of reading opportunities.

The club has its own collection of almost one hundred fifty books, but members are encouraged to select volumes, both classical and popular, from school and town libraries. To keep the atmosphere informal, membership in the club is limited to twenty.

During Book Week, the club helped to make the school book conscious by means of posters in the library and halls, and skits broadcast to the entire school over the intercommunications system. They also presented skits over the school radio station, which were broadcast to the community.

The officers of the Readers Club for the year 1950-1951 were Martha Schmitt, president, and Sue Tretter, secretary-treasurer.

to build a better community

The Build A Better Community Club was organized in March, 1950, by Miss Ruth Braeutigam, who is now sponsoring the club. The purpose of the club is to further community spirit within our local area.

In November, at the time of the regular city election, a mock election was held. Student voters were required to register in their home rooms before casting their votes. Voting books were installed on each floor of the main building, with one in the annex. Regular election officials were appointed for each polling place. The purpose of the election was to familiarize and to raise their interest in civic matters.

A school survey of recreational facilities and possibilities in every city school was conducted as part of a city survey.

The club meets every Thursday during club period. Membership is open to any civic-minded student of New Albany High School.

Officers for the year were Marilyn Shaffer, president; Austin Frentz, vice president; Donald Sisloff, secretary; James Lewis and Kenneth Scharf, treasurers; and John Schickel, sergeant at arms.

truth, justice, and progress

The Alpha chapter of the Tri Hi Y, which has been under the supervision of Miss Ruth Braeutigam since 1947, sets an example for the rest of the community in good fellowship and Christian character.

The club, composed of junior and senior girls, has many worth-while annual projects, including the distribution of calendars to the mimbers of the faculty for classrooms and the sharing of gifts with the less fortunate at Christmas and Easter. This past Christmas the club helped a family of seven by sending food, clothing, and toys for the five children. During Christmas, the Alpha girls joined together to carol appreciative persons and homes in New Albany. After the caroling, the club members gathered at the home of one of their sponsors to wrap Christmas gifts to be silven to the needs. The club also care.

tributed to the various local and national benefit

In the fall of 1951, the three Tri Hi Y chapters of NAHS joined together in the initiation of sixty-five girls. This service, the first joint initiation of the three chapters, took place following a hanquet given at the high school.

Every third meeting, the club sponsored an outside speaker. O. P. Peters and S. B. Guethe were two of their many distinguished guests.

One of the club's main activities was the maintenance of a checkroom on the first floor during the baskerball season. Every member of the club worked in the checkroom, contributing a certain amount of the trime to this worthy project. The proceeds from the checkroom were used for school improvement and charitable purposes.

The three Tri Hi Y chapters sponsored a double assembly which was given by the Arthur Murray Studio. Exhibitions of the modern dance were given

The Omega chapter of Tri Hi Y was registered with the State YMCA of Indiana in November, 1948, to meet the need for a freshman and sophomore Tri Hi Y group.

The club's officers during the school year were Dorene Berry, president; Ann Benjamin, vice president; Elizabeth Shoup, secretary; Carol Ann Barkes, treasurer: Mary Florence Ollis, chaplain; Zoerado Bacot, sergeant at arms; and Marcia Shepherd, historian. The sponsor is Miss Muriel Rvall.

Proceeds from the two checkrooms maintained on the third floor during basketball season made it possible for Omega girls to remember the less fortunate at Christmas and to contribute to the numerous civic drives. They presented to the school a water cooler for the back hall on the third floor. The club also gave outstanding members campenhips to Camp Tecumseh and assisted the other Tri Hi Y chapters in sponsoring a double assembly of a cultural nature.

Among their social functions were the annual Mothers' Day Tea, the Christmas party for members and sponsors, and the Tri Hi Y spring dance.

The second year for the Alpha Beta chapter of Tri Hi Y has been filled with service work, conferences, money raising activities, and social events. With a memberahip of thirty-six freshman and sophomore girls, the club has taken on an additional faculty sponsor and has increased its number of patrons from one to five.

The annual dinner and initiation, sponsored by the three chapters of Ti-IH Y with the girls' mothers as guests, began the year's program. In October, members, their partons, and sponsors lunched in Louisville and attended a movie. The Alpha Betsa entertained friends at a beautiful Holiday Tea in the American Legion Home and a Christmas party was held for the members and patrons. The chapter was represented at every Tri Hi Y conference.

The club sponsored a candy and pastry sale domotown, distributed baskets of food to needy families at Thanksgiving, and had charge of the concessions at two of the basketball games. The year's program ended with an outing and all day picnic at Clifty Falls.

Officers of the club for the year were Delle Whittinghill, president; Marilyn Shaffer, vice president; Dolores Archer, secretary; Dovis Shaffer, tressurer; Louise Karnes, sergeant at arms; Carrie McClure, historian; and Jetta Ann Martin, chaplain. clean living, clean speech "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character" is the purpose of the Senior Hi Y Club, under the direction of Floyd Henry.

An initiation banquet was given by the club members at the Colonial Manor on February 8. Thirteen new members were added to the club at this time. The new members were presented with Hi Y pins and membership cards, Hi Y sponsored a pep session the day before basketball tournament play began. Coach Bernard Hickman and the cheerleaders from the University of Louisville were guests.

Throughout the year, the Tri Hi Y and the Hi Y clubs met for various social gatherings. In the spring, the club sponsored a picnic at Blackiston's Mill for members and their guests.

A variety show, featuring local school talent, was presented in April for the student body.

The club also made a Hi Y emblem to be hung on the wall of the high school gymnasium. Their slogan is "Clean Living, Clean Speech, Clean Sports, Clean Scholarship."

The club membership is open to any boy of the junior or senior class who subscribes to the stated purpose of this organization and is accepted by the executive committee at one of its regular meetings.

The Hi Y Club was organized in September of 1945 by Miss Ruth Braeutigam as a high school branch of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The officers for the year were Robert Tegarden, president; Lewis Pry, secretary; and Donald Moser, treasurer, clean sports, clean scholarship

Organized in 1949, the Junior Hi Y Club strives to promote good sportsmanship and clean living, and to extend honesty, loyalty, and good citizenship throughout the entire student body of the high school.

During the weekly meetings, the members discussed the use of proper language, good manners, self-respect, and many other virtues which lead to clean, wholesome living. During the club period, different films were shown on various sports.

One of the special activities of the year was an annual spring picnic at the forest reserve at Henryville. The club members attended another party at Frank Marquet's cabin. During the basketball season, the Junior Hi Y members formed a basketball team and also had contests among themselves. They enjoyed softball and other sports in the spring months.

The Junior Hi Y group also attended different interesting and outstanding sports events around the New Albany, Jeffersonville, and Louisville areas.

Officers were elected in September for the entire year. Pete Corrao served as president; Tom Benbrook, vice president; Tom Walker, treasurer; and Ralph Webb, secretary. The club is sponsorad by Robert Oenbrink.

Robert E. Carter is shown conducting a rehearsal of the New Albany High School Concert Choir.

During the third period of each school day, the New Albany High School Concert Choir, under the direction of Robert E. Carter, meets in the music room for a practice session. The seventy-five members of the choir have enjoyed preparing many fine selections for various musical programs. Accompanists have been Harriet Scriber and Nancy Reed.

The objectives of this organization are to promote good singing for as many students as possible and to enjoy music through active participation. Other purposes are to gain poise and stage presence by appearances in concerts before students and the general public.

The Concert Choir sang for the Education Week open house broadcast from the NAHS auditorium. The choir, together with members of Speakers, presented the annual Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assembly programs.

In April, the choir participated in the Valley Choral Festival at Aurora, Indiana. Eighteen mem-

The organization presented its Christmas Concert to the students of New Albany High School at the Christmas assembly, to the Corydon High School students, and to the public in an evening concert. The choir presented the "Song of Christmas" for the first time—an unforgettable arrangement of the story of the Nativity set to music.

The choir presented for its May Concert the humorous "Brooklyn Baseball Cantata"—certainly a popular and timely selection for the 1951 spring concert as it marked the one hundredth anniversary of the great American game of baseball.

The choir broadcasts a radio program on alternate Friday afternoons over the school station, WNAS-FM. The programs this year were produced by Harriet Scribner, under the direction of Mr. Carter, and featured choral selections and soloists.

Soloists and ensembles from the choir set a record for their organization by winning forty-four first division medals, fifteen second, and one third division medal at the solo and ensemble contests held this year at Hanover College and Terre Haute, Indiana.

To become a member of Bel Canto is the ambition of every NAHS girl who is interested in vocal music. Twenty-four new members were initiated this year. Membership is on a competitive basis. Tryouts are held in the fall and the prospective members are judged by the officers and sponsor of the club.

The club members carried out a favorite tradition by caroling through the halls of NAH5 and the grade schools at Christmas. They also entertained for hospitals and various service clubs during the vuletide season.

The club was especially honored this year by an invitation to sing at Nichols General Hospital for their observance of United Nations Day.

The purpose of the Art Club is to bring together those students seriously interested in art and its benefits. The club members carry out this purpose by using club periods to learn and practice the finer points of art.

On Halloween, a party was given as an initiation for new members. Costumes were surrealistic and made by the students.

During the Christmas season, the Art Club decorated the halls. In the main hall, they constructed Santa Claus's castle with a train full of toys running around it. Above the inside doors and hanging on the light fixtures, they placed paper mache elves. The art window itself was made into a replica of Santa's too show with the elves and tows animated.

The club also decorated the art window for Valentine Day. They painted a red background in the shape of a heart on the window pane and made figurines representing a sailor and his sweetheart on a park bench.

Officers of the club were Anne Koch, president, and George Engle, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Virginia Biggerstaff sponsors the club.

"I speak three different languages, but that isn't to my credit. If you were raised in Francy you would know them, too," If you overheard this conversation, you would think that we had a world traveler in our midst, but in reality, it is only a line from one of the new Thespian plays.

The National Thespian Society was established in 1929, at Fairmont State College, Fairmont, West Virginia, by a group of educators interested in the improvement of dramatic art in the secondary schools. The New Albany High School Thespian troupe was affiliated with the Society in 1945.

This year, the club has assisted in the production of two speech class plays, "Arsenic And Old Lace," which was given November 17 and 11, and "Arms And The Man," given April 5 and 6. The assistance was especially valuable along the lines of publicity, ticket sales, and stage crews.

Thespians do not only help other groups in producing, but produce plays of their own. A sample of this was "The Opera Matinee," a oneact play concerning the griefs and troubles of a certain group of women at an opera matinee. This play was presented for the New Albany Classroom Teachers Association.

The project, which was started last year, of establishing a permanent wardrobe was continued. Members canvassed their homes and the town in an effort to enlarge the wardrobe. This project will be continued in the future.

Participation in these activities gives members points. A person must have ten points to become an active member, then continue to earn ten points a semester to remain active. After a member has twenty points, he becomes a star Thespian. With each additional ten points, he may become a two star, three star, or honor Thespian.

During the weekly meetings, time was spent in perfecting the acting abilities of the members. The lives of great actors and actresses were reviewed, and the origin of dramatics was studied. Pantomirms were given and criticized. Field trips

The Junior Actors Club is devoted to the advancement of dramatic art. Experience gained by membership in this club may be a stepping stone to future success in this field. One interested in dramatics can participate in the activities of this club while working to become a Thespian.

Members of the club are educated not only in accessing, but in all the production work behind the scenes; such as, make-up, lighting, sound effects, and staging. Experience in theatrical work was agained by the presentation of a radio play at Christmas and a one-act play in March. The one-act play. "Siter Sue," was given for a freshman-sophomore assembly. The cast included Judith Fleischer, Virginia Lange, Jacqueline Shee, Evelyn Campbell, Pete Corrao, Ray Waltrip, Jerry Montgomery, and Patrick Burke.

The club was organized in 1949 by Miss Gertrude Wilson, sponsor. Membership is open to all sophomores who are interested in the mechanisms of the theatrical world.

Tuesday club meetings were spent giving pantomimes and skits, and rehearsing for the play. The club sponsored a hayride in May for members and their guests.

Officers for the year were James Corcoran, president; Pete Corrao, vice president; Judith Fleischer, secretary; Janell King, treasurer; and Martine Cord, program chairman.

the call of the stage

The Freshman Dramatics Club was founded in 1948 to give freshmen students a chance to appear in dramatic presentations. The primary objectives of the club are to learn techniques of acting, to further the understanding of god drama, and to learn to work together effectively and harmoniously.

The regular meetings are held each Tuesday during the home room period. Special emphasis is placed on pantomimic dramatization and improvisation. Actors and plots of current plays and movies are discussed and evaluated. Committee discussions and group rehearsals are scheduled for after-school hours. At the practices the stu-

The special project for the year was a minstrel. Special committees helped to plan and to produce the show. The acts for the minstrel included special dances, vocal solos, jokes of the customary style, and group singing and dancing.

wnas-fm, nahs student station

"Radio WNAS-FM, the station owned and operated by and for the boys and girls of the city of New Albany."

This past year, twenty-two high school seniors have enabled the nation's first student operated station to increase the daily broadcast schole to three hours. These workshop students have written and produced their own shows and have helped hundreds of elementary and Junior High students have students have broadcast their programs.

This year's programs were highlighted by several events. In the early fall, the station carried the voices of Covernor Schricker and Associate Justice Sheman Minton of the U. S. Supreme Court. In December, the station sent five staff members to the Hotel Sherman in Chicago to broadcast before the annual meeting of the Chicago School Broadcast Conference. In May, another workshop group presented a special broadcast over WVSH, Huntington Public Schools. This was a request broadcast before the spring meeting of the Audio-Visual Directors of the State of Indiana.

The WNAS staff has worked hard to improve speech, instruction, and public relations.

The sportscasting staff of WNAS followed our NAHS Buildogs from September to March and from Louisville to Lafayette, always bringing play-by-play accounts of their athletic contests.

In addition to WNAS-FM workshop programs, the New Albany student station carried Junior Hi Time, a program featuring students of Junior High School. The station also broadcast Scribner On The Air. These programs were broadcast every two weeks,

Other programs carried by WNAS-FM were the Battle For Books, The Spell Around, and Elementary Round Table. The Battle For Books is a public library program using Junior High School students. These programs were listened to by teachers and students in their classrooms.

on the domestic side

Members of the Future Homemakers of America are preparing themselves in a very worthwhile field of education, which, with the correct training, may become a brilliant career.

The club was formerly known as the Minerva Club, but in 1949, the NAHS chapter of FHA was affiliated with the state organization of the Future Homemakers of America. The purpose of the club is to further the students' interest in home economics.

The Future Homemakers is a very active club. Sixty new members were initiated this year. The members had a formal installation service for their officers at the American Legion Hall. A faculty tea was given during the Christmas season.

The club completed several other projects during the school year. On March 21, the members had their annual Mother-Daughter Banquet. Several members attended the district convention at French Lick in April. The New Albany chapter helped celebrate FHA Week by making posters and preparing an exhibit for the art window, During meetings, the members of both the Junior and Senior DE Clubs discussed phases of retailing.

One hundred forty students were enrolled in the Senior Distributive Education Christmas training classes this year. The class was divided into two sections because of the many students enrolled in the course. One hundred twenty-six of these trainees were placed or found employment in local and surrounding stores.

The Junior DE Club participated in many activities during the year. The members had a hay-ride, held an initiation, and attended the state convention at Evansville. Special projects of the year were publishing a Distributive Education newspaper, visiting local businessmen, and operating concessions at the basketball games.

business leaders of the future

The Future Business Leaders of America is a club organized to help students prepare for entrance into the business world. This goal is attained by showing the many opportunities and various fields open to them in the business world.

In fulfilling the club's purpose, its members, sponsored by Miss Elizabeth Wampler, carry on panel discussions during club periods on subjects that will help prepare them for employment. These discussions center around what business wants in skills and abilities, how to get interviews, the importance of a good personal appearance, and how to hold a position after one has been secured.

While learning more about the present day business world, members of the club may earn any one of three major degrees: the leader, the supervisor, and the helper. To earn the leader degree, which is the highest, the person must be considered an outstanding commercial student.

These students participated in a panel discussion on the topic "What an Employer Expects of Me as an Employee."

These students are discussing various types of application blanks used by leading firms in Louisville and the surrounding area.

FBLA members are leaving for a field trip to the IBM offices in Louisville.

The local chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America was organized during the second semester of the 1948-1949 school year. It became a member of the national organization in March. 1949.

Included in the activities of the year were the formal initiation held at the Colonial Manor, trips to different business establishments, and the annual state convention.

The officers for the year were Joyce Flynn, president; Fay Jacobi, vice president; Doris Hublar, secretary; and Dorothy MacLeod, treasurer.

CREED

I believe that free education is the right of every young person in America.

I believe that the future of America depends upon mutual understanding and cooperation of business, industry, labor, the home, the church, the school, and by the peoples of our own and other lands. I agree to do my utmost to bring about better understanding and cooperation on the part of all these groups,

I believe every young person should prepare himself for a useful occupation, and that he should carry on that occupation in a manner that will bring the greatest good to the greatest number.

I believe every young person should be actively interested in better social, political, community, and family life.

I believe every young person has a right to earn his living at a useful occupation and that this right should not be denied him because of race, color, or creed.

I believe every young person should take responsibility for carrying out assigned tasks in a manner that will reflect credit to himself, his associates, his school, and his community.

I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and to think clearly, and I pledge myself to use these abilities to make America a better place for everyone.

JCL members are shown participating in a Roman Banquet, one of the club's annual projects.

The purpose of the Junior Classical League, sponored by Mrs. Evelyn Simms, is to create interest and appreciation of the classics in high school students. The club was originally named Sodalitas Latina, but in 1939, the organization was affiliated with the Junior Classical League, which is a national organization.

The Junior Classical League holds a Roman Banquet as an annual project. Club members must come dressed in Roman costume. Food similar to that of the Romans is eaten and it is served by slaves, following the custom of ancient Roman banquets.

The club participated in many activities during the year. An initiation for new members was held, during which the Roman costume was again assumed. The club members made posters and displays to advertise Latin Week. The club sponsored a Christmas party and a picnic,

Officers for the year 1950-51 were Carolyn Shultz and Richard Wilson, Consuls; Doris Humphrey, Quaestor; and Inez Hottell, Scriptor.

le cercle français

Le Cercle Francais was reorganized under the sponsorship of Mrs. Irma Pritz in September, 1949, after having been discontinued for a number of years.

The purpose of the French Club is to develop interest in the culture of France and a love for the French language. The objectives of the club are to enjoy the festivals, folk songs, and dances of the French, and to study France and the people of that country.

French festivals are celebrated in Le Cercle Français just as they are in France. A part of the club's activities is to serve refreshments and dance the proper folk dances of different national celebrations.

Celebration of the Day of Kings, or Mardi gras, was the outstanding festival observed by the club this year. Members assembled French costumes in a manner similar to that of the French.

Another special project of the year was a public performance by the language department, which was given in April

One of the many interesting activities of Le Cercle Francais was attending French movies, which were shown at a theatre in Louisville, Initiation was held on November 2, and during the school day the neophytes were required to wear French costumes and were not allowed to speak a word of English.

To provide an opportunity for student development in science outside the textbook and to acquaint high school students with the actual conditions of industry and the science profession are the purposes of the New Albany High School Science Club.

The Science Club, reorganized in 1948 in the science department by Lawrence S. Rose, is affiliated with the Science Clubs of America, a national organization. Mr. Rose now sponsors the club.

Any high school student who has had at least one semester of science and has maintained a B average in that subject is eligible for membership.

Members of the club take trips to industries, give reports, present projects, and conduct discussions, thus developing apportunities not offered in regular textbook science courses. Each member is expected to maintain a progressive interest in science throughout the year.

The club meetings are conducted by rotating chairmen. Each week, the member responsible for the program acts as the chairman. The science Club holds two meetings each week, one on Tuesday and one on Thursday.

Last fall, as a special field trip, the club attended the Junior Academy of Science at Hanover College. Fifteen students participated in this project, accompanied by Mr. Rose, James B. Hawkins, and Delbert A. Brown.

Each year, members try for the many scholarships and cash prizes offered in the field of science.

Officers for the year were Finley Brown, treasurer, and Albert Prince, secretary.

from pose to picture

The Photography Club was organized during the school year 1944-1945 and was active until 1946 when it was discontinued. In 1948 the club was reorganized under the sponsorship of Delbert A. Brown.

Membership is limited to thirty-five members, and in the past two years fewer than half of those selecting the club could be accepted because of limited time and facilities.

The purpose of the club is to develop the photographic technique of its members and to increase their knowledge of photography. The club also fosters the development of the worth-while hobby of picture taking.

During an active year the club took part in such projects as learning to take outdoor and indoor pictures, developing negatives, making contact prints, and enlarging and improving composition prints. The members also studied the use of filters.

One of the major projects for the second semester was a photography contest within the club. Earl Fansler was first place winner; William Edwards, second; Patricia Payne, third; and Mary Schickel, fourth. Another project was taking pictures of school activities, selling the pictures, and using the profits to buy a new dryer.

Ronald Beard served as president, assisted by Ralph Harvey, vice president; Shirlee Loughmiller, secretary; and Joyce Robertson, treasurer.

New horizons are open to all sky-minded persons. To increase their knowledge of aviation, members of the Aeronautics Club meet once a week on Thursday to discuss different developments in the field of aviation. Some activity is planned for each meeting. Besides making talks on aerial safety and recent happenings in the field of aeronautics, students take great interest in special projects related to aviation. Various members have reported on subjects and have brought in pictures and clippings pertaining to all phases of aviation during programs throughout the past year.

Many experiments and opportunities have been offered to the Aeronautics Club. One of these was the inspecting of scale model engines as well as assembling and studying actual airplane motors. The members also built detailed scale model airplanes and put them into actual flight. They had the opportunity to examine a scale model, jet engine.

The purpose of the Aeronautics Club is to study and understand the elementary principles of aeronautics. Films on aviation and related topics are means by which the club carries out this purpose.

Officers of the Aeronautics Club for the past year were Richard McClaren, president; Otto Smith, vice president; Carloy Mills, secretary; John Wedge, treasurer; and Shirley Elliott, sergeant at arms, Mr. Max Wiesman is the club sponsor.

Who can yell the loudest and longest of anyone in school? Why, Senior Boosters of course. This club, sponsored by Miss Alma Fisher and Stanley Sajko, is always ready to support not only the athletic department but any other organization in an effort to increase school loyalty.

The most important function of the Boosters is to promote good sportsmanship at all times. They have always done this job well and have left a good impression of NAHS with visiting schools and teams. The famous human "N", formed by the Boosters at every home game, followed the canines all the way to the semi-finals at Bloomington, where their voices rose above all others to yell "Y-I-C-T-O-R-Y-".

The Junior Boosters Club was organized in 1948 for the purpose of lending support to all school functions and to promote better sportsmanship at athletic contests. The membership of the club consists of freshman and sophomore girls.

Junior Boosters selected their own cheerleaders and worked out special yells for the Pup team at basketball games. The Junior cheerleaders were Yvonne Belcher, Patricia Woodruff, and Jo Ann Atkins.

This year the club has been especially active.

They sponsored the first basketball pep session and had William Diedrich, sportscaster, as their guest speaker. During this pep session the club introduced a new pep song.

Junior Boosters helped form the Booster "N" at basketball games. The members also sold concessions at the games. The club sponsored an annual picnic at Spring Mill State Park, Mitchell, Indiana.

Officers of the club were Shelley Jo Wolf, president; Patricia Voignier, vice president; Sandra Brown, secretary; and Patricia Sands, treasurer.

hold that line

The varisty football squad had an average record of three wins, five losses, and one tie, but most of the games were closer than the scores indicate. In the first game of the season, the canines led Washington of Indianapolis throughout three and a half quarters, but had a lax minute in the fourth quarter and went down to a 7 to 6 defeat.

The canines then found the win column with a 7 to 0 win over the Bloomington Panthers. The canines' only score was a 65 yard jaunt by speedster, Dick Riely.

The Valley Vikings, of Valley, Kentucky, one of the best teams in the history of the school, held the Bulldogs to a 7 to 7 tie.

The Buildogs then pulled the upset of the season with a 13 to 6 victory over the Reitz Memorial Tigers of Evansville. At one time during the game, the canines led 13 to 0.

The next week, the Bulldogs started out fast and jumped into a 7 to 0 lead over Male of Louisville, the No. 2 team in the state of Kentucky. The stubborn Bulldogs finally went down in defeat, 32 to 7. Dick Riely scored the Bulldogs' only touchdown.

The Bulldogs, always a good first half team, held St. Xavier, Kentucky's No. 3 team, to a 7 to 7 tie at the half, but again went down in defeat. 27 to 7.

The canines then traveled to Vincennes to engage the Vincennes Alices, with a chance to the for the SIAC crown. The Bulldogs blew their chance and went down to a 25 to 0 defeat. The closest the Bulldogs came to scoring was the 20 yard line, late in the fourth quarter.

The Bulldogs then came home to entertain the Boonville Pioneers. The Pioneers started out fast and led 6 to 0 at the half, but the Bulldogs reversed form and came out strong in the second half for a 16 to 6 victory.

The Bulldogs ended their season with another chance to tie for the SIAC championship. They literally threw the game away to Evansville Reitz on a snowy, rainy, cold day. The Bulldogs fumbled five times and Reitz scored on three of these fumbles. The final score was Reitz 21, New Albany 0.

At the end of each football season, co-captains for the following year are elected by the team. The co-captains for the 1950-1951 season were Dick Riely and Bob Smither. The co-captains for next year are Gerald Huth and Ed Watt.

The Buildogs last several of their most dependable lettermen through graduation. The graduating lettermen were Carl Anderson, Jim Homrighausen, Jerry Homrighausen, Don Evans, Paul Losch, Buddy Webb, Rex Sheets, Chas Hunter, Duke Harter, Bob Smither, Jim Terry, Dick Riely, and Lee Henry

Despite their heavy losses through graduation, the canines have a number of competent lettermen returning next year, who will again be coached by Alex Thom. The boxs who will form the backbone of the 1951-1952 Bulldog team are Chet Smither, Jim Yeager, Ed Watt, Bob Plaiss, Ed Douglas, Joe Donan, Pat Burke, Keith Coodwin, Stan Denny, Don Everdon, Bill Denny, Bill Maetschke, Paul Carpenter, John Bryant, Terry Thom, Lee Mook, Jerry Thomas, Paul Smith, Ceorge Huth, Robert Stover, and Cerald Huth, fight hard, you bulldogs

The New Albany Bulldegs, under the coaching reins of Gordon Raney, had a very impressive sazon in 1950-51, winning seventeen games and losing only three. The other losses were to Gary Froebel, the state's No. I team, 41 to 35, and to Howe of Indianapolis, 41 to 38, in an upset game.

The Bulldogs started the season with a 58 to 34 victory over Corydon. Central of Evansville, the Bulldogs' first conference foe, came to town

Coech Gordon Reney and Captain Paul Poff.
"We've got the coach, we've got the team;
We've got the pap, we've got the steam."

Pups went down to the count of 58 to 55. The Bullpups were then host to the Washington Hatchets, and again they bowed in defeat, 45 to 32.

The Pups started the second half of their season with a 32 to 30 win over Broad Ripple of Indianapolis. The next week, they defeated Madison, 38 to 27. Then they traveled to Indianapolis to engage the Howe Hornets and were defeated on a last second foul, 27 to 26.

The Bullpups then motored to Jasper to engage the dangerous little Wildcats, and came home with a 47 to 35 victory. They then defeated Lanesville, 32 to 27. This was the same team the varsity defeated in the sectional tournament. The Bullpups closed their season with a 0 to 29 defeat at the hands of Columbus.

freshmen win five, lose four

The New Albany Freshman team, coached by Stanley Sajko, had an average season this year, winning five games and losing four. Charlie Boardman was the team's high scorer this year with 114 points, an average of over 12 points per game.

In the first game, the Freshmen were host to Laconia's second team, and were defeated, 31 to 23, in a hard fought game. They then traveled to Laconia, and were defeated again, 35 to 31.

The Freshmen came back home to defeat Flaget, 23 to 18, in a very exciting game. They played Flaget three more times. In their next meeting they won, 17 to 14, at Flaget. Then they came home to play them and won, 56 to 25, then, 47 to 34, for a clean sweep in the four games with Flaget.

The Freshmen traveled to Evansville to play in the annual Freshman Tournament, but they were a little shaky and tight, and lost to the F. J. Reitz Freshmen, 30 to 10, in an unexciting game.

The Freshmen Bulldogs then played two games with St. Xavier. They won the first game, 38 to 26, and then closed the season with a 48 to 46 loss to St. Xavier. This game was decided in the fast second by a St. Xavier basket.

MARY USES HER HEAD TO SAVE HER SIGHT!

There has never been room for eyestrain in Mary's curriculum! That's one good reason for those high grades . . . and a good reason for her pep and popularity, too! Eyestrain means eye fatigue that often leads to permanent eye injury. So, take a tip from Mary . . . conserve your energy and save your eyes! No matter what the future holds for you — a job, college, or whatever you plan to do, make sure you have COOD LICHT . . . right size bulbs and glare-free lighting.
